Pier 4, Baltimore, Maryland's downtown, public heliport.

One of New York City's four public heliports and the busiest—the Pan-Am Metroport conveniently located on the East River at 60th Street.

In 1981, the number of heliports increased to 3,985, up 16% over the 1977 total of 3,433. Of these 3,985 heliports, 319 are on rooftops and 3,666 are ground level facilities. In addition, Offshore Magazine reports there are heliports on the 150 mobile oil rigs and on most of the existing 7,072 oil platforms in the Gulf of Mexico and more off the Alaska, California and Massachusetts coasts. Of the 3,985 heliports listed, only 348 are public use facilities, down from the 1977 total of 417.

There are 3,637 heliports for private or prior permission use, compared to 3,016 in 1977. This increase reflects not only greater utilization of the helicopter, but also the growing variety of business use and destinations. Today there are heliports at utility, insurance, steel, construction and mining companies and at banks, breweries, shopping centers, vineyards, race tracks, stadiums, publishing companies, newspapers, TV and radio stations, assembly plants, convention centers, museums, inns, hotels, motels, department stores, city halls, cosmetic firms, prisons, farms, and The White House.

The need for more public heliports is critical. City center ground level or rooftop facilities are essential to permit the point-to-point transportation above ground traffic and below airlines traffic which only the helicopter can provide. These urban heliports can serve as reliever airports for the growing fleet of business helicopters.

Without public heliports, metropolitan areas today lack a balanced and complete transportation system. Heliports should be part of any public use building constructed today. Chicago and Los Angeles City ordinances require rooftop emergency helicopter landing areas on high rise buildings. Recent high rise fires have tragically and dramatically demonstrated that these 50-foot rooftop clear zones can save lives -- when the only way out is up!

Directory information was provided by the Federal Aviation Administration, the State Departments of Transportation and Aeronautics Commissions, the Canada Map Office, Department of Mines and Resources, the Ports Authority, Commonwealth of Puerto Rico and the Aviation Department, Houston, Texas.

The Toronto Hospital for Sick Children was the first in Canada to provide a heliport. Here an ambulance helicopter lands on this downtown rooftop facility.

Anaheim, CA—January 19, 1981. Representatives of The Whirly-Girls, international women helicopter pilots, make the first official helicopter landing on the new Anaheim Memorial Hospital Heliport.

Whirly-Girls President, Mrs. Dee Fulk, presents a Whirly-Girls Judy Short Memorial Hospital Heliport Certificate in recognition of the hospital's establishment of this life-saving facility.
The greatest increase has been in the number of hospital heliports. There are now 905 of these life-saving facilities, a 28% increase over the 699 reported in 1977, and an astronomical increase over the 1965 total of 34.

Today, 46 of these hospitals operate helicopter ambulance services. In addition, all hospital heliports in Maryland are served by the Maryland State Police Med-Evac helicopters. In Illinois, every hospital heliport is served by the Illinois Department of Transportation helicopters, as well as by the Illinois Army National Guard and several commercial helicopter air ambulance operators.

In Washington, D.C., the U.S. Park Police helicopters serve the city's hospital heliports and operate as backup for hospitals in Maryland and Northern Virginia.

There are 24 other states that have one or more agencies operating ambulance helicopters.

GLOSSARY

Approach and Departure Paths: The flight track of the helicopter as it approaches or departs from the heliport’s designated take-off and landing area.

Autotation: A power-off flight condition when the engine is not driving the main and tail rotor systems. The main rotor is driven only by the action of the relative wind providing a means to maneuver to a safe, low speed landing in an emergency. Autotation is a built-in safety factor, the equivalent of a power-off glide in an airplane.

Downwash: A variable volume of air moved downward by the rotating main rotor, resulting in a flow or airblast spilling outward as the air strikes the ground and is re-circulated by the main rotor.

Ground Effect: A cushion of denser air built up between the ground and the helicopter by the air displaced downward by the rotor. An improvement in flight capability that develops whenever the helicopter flies or hovers near the ground or other surface.

Helicopter: A rotary-wing aircraft that depends principally upon the lift generated by one or more power-driven rotors rotating on substantially vertical axes for its support and motion in the air. The helicopter can hover, fly backward and sideways, in addition to forward flight. A helicopter is a V/STOL — a vertical and/or short take-off and landing aircraft.

Heliport: An area, either at ground level or elevated on a structure, that is used for the landing and takeoff of helicopters. It can be a minimum facility or it can include some or all of the various facilities useful to helicopter operation such as helicopter parking, hangar, waiting room, fueling and maintenance equipment.

Helistop: A minimum facility heliport, either at ground level or elevated on a structure for the landing and take-off of helicopters but without such auxiliary facilities, as waiting room, hangar, parking, etc.

Hover: A flight characteristic peculiar to helicopters and certain other aircraft which enables them to remain motionless above a fixed point on the earth’s surface.

Off-Heliport-Landing Site: A take-off and landing area intended for temporary or occasional helicopter use but not formally designated as a heliport.

Peripheral Area: A safety zone that provides an obstruction-free area on all sides of the landing and take-off area.

Taxiing: A powered movement of an aircraft from one area to another, usually just before take-off or after landing. Helicopters equipped with skid-type landing gear are taxied in a hovering position a few feet above the ground; this is known as air or hover taxiing. Larger helicopters are usually equipped with wheel landing gear; such ships can ground taxi as well as hover taxi.

Touchdown Pad: That part of the landing or take-off area where it is designated that the helicopter alight.

Unicom: An air-to-ground radio communication facility providing advisory information on airport and heliport services and utilization. Location and frequencies of UNICOMs are shown on aeronautical charts and publications.
GLOSSARY (continued)

Visual Flight Rules (VFR): Rules that govern procedures for conducting flight under visual conditions.

HELIPORT CHECK LIST

1. Recognize the need for a heliport.

2. Review government regulations -- city, county, state and federal -- regarding zoning city planning, building codes, ordinances, etc. to assure proper compliance.

4. Select a suitable heliport site or sites.

5. Contact a local helicopter operator or helicopter manufacturer's representative to check the operational feasibility of the proposed site.

6. Discuss with helicopter operators and FAA representatives the selection of air routes and operating procedures.

7. With their help, submit the required "Notice of Landing Area Proposal" FAA Form 7480-1 to the local FAA Airports District Office.

8. Consult qualified architect or engineer to ensure compliance with design, construction and technical requirements.

9. And if required, submit application on proposed helicopter operations and heliport location for license or approval together with request for local re-zoning if needed.

' This is a suggested check list to follow in establishing a heliport or helistop. As situations vary in different parts of the country, all these suggested steps may not be necessary. For example, a ground level area on a parking lot or lawn or an open rooftop area may be available requiring none or minimum construction. In many instances the area need only be marked, fences, and a wind sock installed.

SPECIAL FAA ADVISORY TO HELIPORT OWNERS/OPERATORS

Some heliports and helistops listed in this directory are facilities which are not on record with the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA). Operators and owners are reminded of their responsibilities under Part 157, Notice of Construction, Alteration, Activation, and Deactivation of Airports, of the Federal Aviation Regulations. Completion of a Notice of Landing Area Proposal, FAA Form 7480-1, notifies the FAA of your facility and will result in a FAA airspace determination based on safe and efficient use of airspace. Failure to notify the FAA could result in conflicts in airspace use and affect the FAA's ability to assess airspace requirements for proposed new landing facilities and obstructions to air navigation. Copies of FAA Form 7480-1 may be obtained from the nearest FAA Airports District Office or Regional Office.
